

Just an update on the Crufts Hotel as people were rightly concerned about booking the hotel and there possibly not being a Crufts next year, thus losing their 50% deposit. I have been in talks with the hotel management over this subject and they have agreed not to take any deposits on room bookings this year, I have pasted below their response (Highlighted):

Hi Russell,

I hope that you're continuing to stay safe and are in good health.

I have spoken with Darren and he has proposed that we do not take any prepayments at the time of booking. We will still require a credit/debit card to guarantee reservations made.

Then 8 weeks prior to the arrival date we will take full payment accordingly.

We do appreciate your concerns during this time. Take care for now.

Kind Regards,

Cheryl Fishley | Reservations Manager

You should be able to still secure your room/s now without risking your deposits, hope this helps.
